

On One Theorem of Our Teacher

Nadezhda Ribarska

The only known necessary condition for weak Asplundness of a given Banach space belongs to P.S. Kenderov and M.M. Coban. The result mentioned is more than thirty years old. We are going to make a brief survey of the development of the techniques employed in the proof of this theorem and of its interrelations with some contemporary parts of the general topology and functional analysis.