

Bulgarian Academy of Sciences

INSTITUTE OF MATHEMATICS AND INFORMATICS

NEW!

Webmail

SEARCH

LINKS

FTP Server

PEOPLE

LIBRARY

New site (beta version)

ABOUT IMI

PERSONS AT IMI

PERIODICALS

DEPARTMENTS

RESEARCH

EDUCATION

60 YEARS ANNIVERSARY of
INSTITUTE OF MATHEMATICS AND INFORMATICS

The Publisher of the "FCAA" journal (<http://www.math.bas.bg/~fcaa>), the Institute of Mathematics and Informatics (IMI) of Bulgarian Academy of Sciences (BAS) has celebrated this year a 60th anniversary of its foundation.

IMI - BAS, Short Dates History

• 1947

The Mathematical Institute of Bulgarian Academy of Sciences is founded, including:

- Commission for demographic studies;
- Commission for mathematical investigations in statistics;
- Commission for finance-mathematical research on share loans and contractual law.

• 1951

The first director on the staff and first scientific council are appointed.

• 1954

The first two research associates have been full time employed.

- Directors of the Institute were, in succession: Acad. Lyubomir Chakaloff (1947 - 1950); Acad. Nikola Obrechhoff (1951 - 1963); Acad. Lyubomir Iliev (1964 - 1988); Acad. Peter Kenderov (1989 - 1993); Prof. Nikolay Yanev (1994 - 1999); Corr. Member BAS, Prof. Stefan Dodunekov (1999 -).

• 1961

The first Computing Center is established at the Institute, and it is so renamed to Mathematical Institute with Computing Center.

- 1962 – 1964

The first Bulgarian computing machine (computer) "Vitosha" and the first electronic calculator "Elka" have been created.

- 1966

A part of the team of the Mathematical Institute with Computing Center separated and founded the Central Institute for Computing Techniques.

- 1970 – 1988

Establishment of the United Center for Science and Education in Mathematics and Mechanics, including:

- the Institute of Mathematics and Mechanics of Bulgarian Academy of Sciences,
- the Computing Center,
- the Faculty of Mathematics and Mechanics of Sofia University.

- 1977

A separated Institute of Mechanics and Biomechanics is formed at the Academy, from the former departments of the Institute of Mathematics and Mechanics.

- 1992

From the staff of the Mathematical Institute a part of associates passed to the Faculty of Mathematics and Informatics, thus forming its contemporary basic university staff.

- 1995

Renamed as Institute of Mathematics and Informatics.

*

You are welcome to visit the Institute's Web Site,
<http://www.math.bas.bg>

Details on the history and activities of Section "Complex Analysis" to which three of the Editors belong (V. Kiryakova, P. Rusev, I. Dimovski), can be seen at: <http://www.math.bas.bg/complan/>