

Bulgarian Academy of Sciences

INSTITUTE OF MATHEMATICS AND INFORMATICS

The Institute of Mathematics and Informatics (IMI) at Bulgarian Academy of Sciences, <http://www.math.bas.bg/> will celebrate in 2007, by a series of dedicated events, its

60th ANNIVERSARY

Some more information about the history, structure and development of the institution publishing the FCAA journal, we shall provide in a next issue. The IMI publishes several mathematical journals, series of proceedings, volumes of selected papers, monographs, etc.

Details on some of them can be seen at

<http://www.math.bas.bg/per.html> → PERIODICALS

- Serdica Mathematical Journal, founded: 1975, published quarterly by the Institute of Mathematics and Informatics
- Serdica Journal of Computing, newly published by the Institute of Mathematics and Informatics
- Mathematica Plus (for secondary school pupils and teachers)
- Fractional Calculus and Applied Analysis, published since 1998, quarterly by the Institute of Mathematics and Informatics
- PLISKA Studia Mathematica Bulgarica
- Mathematica Balkanica, New Series, founded: 1987, published quarterly.
- Physico-Mathematical Journal, founded: 1904, published quarterly.
- East Journal on Approximations (site in New Zealand).
- Mathematics and Informatics Quarterly (site in The Netherlands).
- Proceedings of the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences.